PADUCAH, KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1901.

NUMBER 133.

THE PRESIDENT'S FIRST MESSAGE

It Was Read This Morning in Congress—Large Crowd Present.

It follows closely the lines of that of President McKinley—What it Recommends.

PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE TO MCKINLEY

There were great crowds in both houses to hear the president's message read. President Roosevelt pays a high tribute to the late president McKinley, deals with all the public questions specifically, but not at unusual length. The message follows closely the lines of President McKinley's last message.

He recommends a strong navy, an equitable treatment of the Cubans, and Puerto Rico, necessary legislation for the Philippines, favors a reciprocity treaty, the Isthmian canal, Pacific cable, irrigation, enforcement of the civil service regulations, believes that congress can enact a law which will enable the government to exercise control of trade along perfectly equidistant lines and says that publicity of facts is first preventive of abuses of great corporations, recommends the strengthening of the present gold standard, and recommends that as a rule should be kept out of America's affairs and here to promptly depart.

The message recommends the re-enactment of the Chinese exclusion law vigorously calls for army reform, reiterates the Monroe doctrine. The house cheered the clause on the suppression of anarchy.

MORTGAGE ON NEW TEMPLE

TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS WORTH OF BONDS SECURED BY MASON'S NEW HOME.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 3.—The Grand lodge of Kentucky Masons has mortgaged to the Columbia Finance and Trust company, as trustee, 105 feet on the south side of Chestnut street, between Third and Fourth. They will be in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000, and will mature in thirty years. They will bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent.

WE GET DANISH WEST INDIANS.

Copenhagen, Dec. 3.—A full agreement has been reached between Denmark and the United States for the sale of the Danish West Indies. The treaty will probably be signed this week at Washington. The price fixed is between four and five million dollars.

$50,000 FIRE AT EVANSVILLE.

Evansville, Ind., Dec. 3.—Fire damaged the plant of the Crescent Printing company to the extent of $50,000; insurance, $20,000. For some time the Masonic Temple, which is over the printing plant, was threatened. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

KILLING NEAR HARRODSBURG.

Harrodsburg, Ky., Dec. 3.—At Hillsboro Leslie Shewmaker shot and mortally wounded his cousin, George Shewmaker. They were rivals for the same girl's hand.

THE BANK CLOSED.

Washington, Dec. 3.—The National bank at Ballston, Pa., N. Y., closed today. The teller, Charles E. Fitcher, is short one hundred thousand in his accounts.

BORER'S BILL.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—Representative Borer will introduce a bill providing for an appropriation of $150,000 for a Federal building at London, Ky.

THE WEATHER.

Partly cloudy tonight, with rain in extreme eastern portion. Colder and fair Wednesday.

"BAD EYE JACK" KNIFED

A Fatal Cutting Affray on South Second Street Today.

Will Hamilton Arrested By Officer Charles Hart For Killing John Johnson.

THE WOUNDS CAUSED DEATH

Jack Johnson, a restaurant keeper at Second and Court streets, was fatally stabbed about 11:30 o'clock this morning by Will Hamilton, a well-known river man, on Second street opposite the market house.

Hamilton and Red Kirod had been in the Tyroce saloon to take a drink after the former congratulated Kirod on his recent marriage. According to the latter, they were standing in front of the saloon talking when Johnson came up and without warning struck Hamilton in the face, knocking him back with great violence. He was prevented from falling by striking a post.

Hamilton drew a knife and began stabbing his assailant. The latter turned and ran, and was followed by Hamilton, continuing to stab and slash until they got inside of Mr. Ed K. Bond's commission house on the east side of Court street, about midway in the block.

Mr. Bonds was in the rear, and saw them fighting, and ran up. There were several others in the crowd and they were shouting not to let Hamilton cut him, but Hamilton said something about not "letting him work a bluff like that on him," and would not desist until Mr. Bonds seized his arm. In his efforts to free his hand, he cut Mr. Bonds two or three times slightly on the wrist, and then left.

Johnson fell to the floor and a large crowd at once began to collect. Hamilton was arrested by Officer Charles Hart and taken to the city hall, and Dr. J. D. Robertson arrived in a short time to give the wounded man medical attention. When his shirt was opened it was found that he was stabbed three times in the right side, and several times in other places. Part of the entrails protruded from a wound in the abdomen, and it was the opinion that he could not survive. He was taken to the city hospital in the patrol wagon.

Both men are well known in police circles. Johnson is an ex-prize fighter, and is well known as "Bad Eye Jack." He is the man who a few weeks ago struck "Fighting Joe" Smith, of the county, in the head, and injured him so badly that his death two weeks later is attributed by many to the blow.

Johnson is a river fireman and is well known among the habitués of Court and Second streets. Hamilton is not less well-known to the police. He has often been in trouble before. His mother resides on a shantytown at the mouth of Island creek, and one of his brothers, Finn Hamilton, is now in jail awaiting indictment on a charge of robbery. Both men are rather large and have the reputation of being fighters.

When arrested by Officer Hart Hamilton said that Johnson struck him without cause, and he wouldn't allow any one to run over him. The knife he used is an ordinary pocket knife, with a blade about two and a half inches long.

This afternoon half a dozen doctors made an effort at the city hospital to save Johnson's life, but he died at 2:30 o'clock from the wounds.

A warrant will be issued against Hamilton this afternoon for murder.

LIEBERTH IS VICTORIOUS OVER HIS ENEMIES.

Washington, Dec. 3.—George Lieberth lands the Sixth Kentucky collectorship, despite the efforts of his enemies to prevent. The president today ordered his name sent to the senate.

Debos, Boreing and others called to endorse L. Hunter for reappointment.

THE COUNCIL'S FIRST MEETING

All the Members Present Last Night—Mayor Yeiser Takes Charge.

The Election of City Officers—A Number of Changes in the Personnel—Other Business Transacted.

NEW OFFICERS.

Mayor Pro Tem Charles Reed; city clerk, Wm. H. Patterson; city attorney, M. W. Werten; city treasurer, T. E. Hildreth; keeper of city hospital, Mrs. Sarah Ruchett; city assessor, Stewart Dick; city physician, J. E. Corie; city printer, Jas. C. Utterback; city weigher, Thomas Baird; wharfmaster, S. A. Fowler; sewerage inspector, C. P. Baser; fire chief, Jas. Woods; assistant chief, W. E. Aygras; driver of patrol wagon, John Austin; members of board of health, Dr. J. D. Robertson, Mr. John Bonds.

The new council held its first meeting at the city hall last night, with all the members present. Mayor Lang called the meeting to order, and said that four years before it was his honor to be introduced by his predecessor, when he now had the pleasure of introducing his successor, and to whom he turned over the reins of administration with the heartiest of good wishes.

Mayor Yeiser opened by thanking his predecessor and declaring that he fully realized the responsibility reposed in him as mayor, and hoped for the earnest co-operation of the members of the council in the work they have undertaken. He made a few facetious remarks relative to the large crowd present—many of them office seekers—and stated that he feared that he would soon be the most condemned man in the city, referring to the appointments he has soon to make. He took occasion to state, however, that he would do his duty as he saw it.

The mayor's address was as follows: Paducah, Ky., Dec. 3, 1901. To the Common Council of the City of Paducah, Ky.

Gentlemen: It is with a feeling of the deepest responsibility I address you this evening as we assume respectively, the positions of chief executive and legislative body of our fair and beautiful city. Our fellow citizens have demonstrated their confidence by electing us to these positions of honor, and, as city officials, it behooves us to remember that with the honor conferred is combined a sacred trust. We should feel an individual responsibility in advancing the welfare of our city, and in all matters pertaining to its interests, should act with an eye single to the good of the people.

Many of us have served before, and more will be expected of us than if we entered without experience. We should keep pace with and continue to advance the progress already begun by our predecessors, to a "Greater Paducah," until the "Pride of the Purchase" shall be recognized and respected far and near, as a city of manufactures, of commerce, of progress, and as an educational center. I believe, as a legislative body, you are as capable, and as representative a body, as the people of this city have ever had but with your ability and business sagacity there must be a unity of purpose for the betterment of Paducah and her citizens. Personal feeling and prejudice—if there be any—should be laid aside when we enter upon our official duties.

I will respectfully submit as I am bound to you, such measures and suggestions as in my humble judgment, demand your careful attention. You, as my co-workers, are earnestly invited to call my attention to any matter I may overlook, for the good of the people. Any suggestion for the general good shall always receive due consideration. I truly realize no man is infallible, and, doubtless, I will make mistakes, but such will be mistakes in judgment, and not willful errors.

I would recommend the continuance of street improvements already begun, or the adoption of some equally as good or better system. On account of sewerage, gas connections, repaving of gas mains, etc., there are many bad and unsightly places in the streets. In view of this I recommend to you honorable body, the passing of a very stringent law, requiring a permit from the clerk to dig up streets, giving exact location of repairs or excavations, and a true record of same to be kept. The parties obtaining the permit to be required to keep said places in repair for a reasonable length of time, under such penalties as will make the law effective. This law to apply equally to the water company, street car and railroad companies, in laying the mains, tracks, etc., or repaving of the same. Corporations are entitled to the encouragement, consideration, fair treatment, and protection, that is due every public-spirited law-abiding citizen; and they in turn should be required to comply with their contracts to the same extent, as a private individual or contractor would be required.

I would also recommend the build-

IN TODAY'S LOCAL COURTS

The Jas. Spriggs Murder Case Now on Trial in Circuit Court.

This Morning Judge L. D. Husbands Impaneled the Petit Jury.

THE POLICE COURT PROCEEDINGS

Circuit court convened this morning, the second day of the December term, and at 11 o'clock the following petit jury was installed: Jacob Ochlschlager, H. C. Overbey, Henry Alcock, C. C. Walker, Theodora Kelley, C. C. Rame, Tobias Kettler, W. T. Anderson, W. L. Farthing, Jerome Allen, W. H. Arnold, H. C. Allison, Alex. Kirkland, L. W. Robertson, Thomas H. Hunt, Brack Owen, J. V. Howell, R. R. Sutherland, W. T. Cooper, K. C. Rose, J. Wallerstedt, C. C. Rose, Joe Starr and R. E. Ashbrook.

The first case to be called was that against James Spriggs, colored, for murder. Several weeks ago Spriggs shot and killed Mamie Rogers, his sweetheart, but he claims that he did it accidentally and pleaded not guilty when arraigned before the jury.

At press time a jury had not been secured for the trial of Spriggs. At 12 o'clock, the adjourning time, only seven men had been found competent to hear the case and few more had been secured at press time. It looks like it will be a hard matter to get a jury out of the regular panel.

Alex. Kulp and John Degg, doing business under the name of "The Paducah Saddle company," of Court street, filed a suit in the circuit court this morning against B. L. Nelson and R. L. Nelson to recover a balance on a bill of goods alleged to amount to $30.03.

Frankie Rawlins was divorced from her husband, Richard Rawlins and restored to her maiden name, Frankie Walker, this morning.

Messrs. L. M. Wike and Ash Robertson were this morning excoised as grand jurors and A. B. Coleman and L. B. Morrow substituted.

In the case of James Lang, administrator, against Mollie O. Allen, (illegible) Husbands, M. C., filed a report of the assets and the liabilities and received the regular allowance for his services.

John Gynor, who has been in jail for some time awaiting the action of the grand jury on a robbery charge, was this morning recognized in the sum of $100 to appear at court on the 10th day of the present term.

COUNTY COURT.

Mrs. Martha G. Terrell deeds to Dr. J. Q. Taylor, for $1700, property on North Eighth street between Jefferson and Madison streets.

The estate of Ed Farnold, who died yesterday on Adams street, was this morning afternoon ordered into the hands of the public administrator.

Rev. J. C. Reit was this afternoon licensed to perform marriage ceremonies in this county.

The estate of H. J. Younker was this afternoon placed into the hands of John A. Younker, Rosa Younker, the named administratrix having declined to act as such.

POLICE COURT.

Forrest Smith, white, was charged with taking $3 from Lillie Balger, and waived examination, being held to answer.

Parish Jones, for a plain drunk, and Charles Bond, for a breach of the peace, were fined $1 and costs each.

Noddy Skinner, colored, for stealing coal, was held to answer on a charge of petty larceny.

The case against Arthur Hendrick, for stealing a watch, was continued until Thursday.

WERE MARRIED IN CHICAGO.

A telegram was received last evening announcing that Mr. Frank Rike of Paducah and Miss Margery Machon of Alabama were married yesterday at Chicago, as published in The Sun. They are expected to arrive here today or tomorrow.

TO PREPARE FOR MEETING

Y. M. C. A. Directors Will Meet the State Secretary Tonight.

Committees Will Be Appointed to Arrange For the State Meeting in February.

CONFERENCE AT LEXINGTON FRIDAY

There was no meeting of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. last night as intended on account of the absence of several members from the city and the urgent business of others.

Tonight the convention committee, composed of Messrs. D. M. Flournoy, Chairman and Sam T. Hubbard, W. J. Hille, J. D. McQuinn, and R. E. Ashbrook, will hold a meeting to arrange for the convention and to appoint sub-committees. State Secretary H. E. Rosevear and Assistant State Secretary F. J. Michel will meet with the committee and assist in the arrangements.

Reception committees, entertainment committee, banquet committee and several other committees will be appointed and active work relative to the convention begun. An advertising committee will also be appointed to confer with the editors of the local papers relative to advertising the convention as it has been advertised in large cities. Arrangements for a series of newspaper articles describing the different phases of the work, will be made and the articles published for several weeks before the convention. This arrangement proved very successful in Louisville and the convention held there was one of the most successful ever held in the state.

The following is a list of a few notables who have accepted an invitation to attend the convention: Captain R. P. Hobson, Al Wilber, Messrs. General secretary of the Chicago Association; Don O. Shelton, secretary of the national committee of New York; Dr. E. E. Alderman, president of Bethel College of Russellville; President W. E. Beiderwolf, of Green Castle, Ind.; and J. C. Welling, vice president of the I. C. railroad, of Chicago. Mr. Welling will attend on Friday night when the railway session will be held. The singing and musical features of the convention will be in charge of Mr. Harry L. Maxwell, of Green Castle, Ind., and one feature of the musical program will be the big male choruses, composed of twenty voices from the Henderson association. Delegates are expected from all portions of the state and the attendance will be as large as any convention heretofore held.

Tonight will be the first real active meeting of the committee and the greater part of the work of preliminary arrangements will be done. After the sub-committees have been appointed the work falls in their hands and they will begin work immediately.

Beginning with Friday afternoon, December 6, a conference of student Y. M. C. A. Men's Christian Associations will be held in Lexington, Ky., and about two hundred delegates will be in attendance. There are twenty college associations in the state and all are enjoying the best of prosperity. The greater number of these associations are in the central part of the state and Paducah of course will not be represented, having no college association. It is probable that a great many members of the students associations will attend the Paducah convention.

ELECTION COMMISSION.

THE RIVER NEWS.

(BY W. F. LAMSON, REPORTER.)

Observations taken at 7 a. m. River 2.6 on the gauge, no change in last 24 hours. Wind, northeast, a light breeze. Weather cloudy and cooler. Rainfall in last 24 hours, 0.06 inches. Temperature 55. Bell, Observer.

The New South has been thoroughly repaired, repainted and refurnished, and it is said she looks now like a "yearling."

The towboat Vernie Mac, and the big Memphis and digger, with its immense syphon pump were along side the snarled steamer John K. Speed, yesterday working a big force of men in the endeavor of raising the snarled boat which it is thought to be rather doubtful.

The weather of yesterday was one of the most disagreeable days that has visited this section for many months and today is a repeater.

Business down on the wharf still continues light, but better days for river men is close at hand.

The Hoh Dickey is the mail and express packet. She left here today for Evansville with fair business.

Wild geese and ducks are plentiful between here and Cairo on the river. The J. H. Richardson departed for Cairo at 8:30 this morning with fair business.

The Charleston, Captain J. A. Crouch in command, departs for Tennessee river at 5 o'clock this afternoon and his boat is getting a good trip for Clifton and way points.

The Sunshine leaves Cincinnati tomorrow at 5 p. m. for Memphis and the New South leaves Cincinnati next Sunday for New Orleans. These two fine steamers have been laid up for months at Cincinnati and their appearance here on their route to their respective destinations will be a pleasing sight to the river fraternity.

The Clyde arrived from Tennessee river with a very good trip and departs on return trip tomorrow at 5 p. m.

Dan Cunningham, the well known furnace builder, is now engaged in building the furnace on the Maude Kilgore.

The new gasoline boat Ben H., on her trial trip last Friday at Evansville made 14 miles an hour at steam.

There is nearly 17 feet of water at at Cincinnati and rising slowly.

Look out for the Ryman line in a few days. The H. W. Hatteroff will load here for Nashville.

GOVERNMENT PROTECTION.

ST. BERNARD COAL COMPANY
WILL ASK IT—CHARTER CHANGED.

Madisonville, Ky., Dec. 3.—The St. Bernard Coal company of Earlinton is now a thing of the past. The Delaware charter for the new company has arrived. The company was reorganized today and is now known as the St. Bernard Mining company of Dover, Del.

The St. Bernard company surrendered its Kentucky charter last week, giving as the reason for so doing that they could get little or no protection from the state of Kentucky and that in becoming a foreign corporation they would be enabled to ask federal interference.

A CHANGE OF TEACHERS.

Miss Fannie Grigsby, who has been acting as substitute in the grade of Miss Harriet Wilson, of the Washington building, was this morning placed in charge of Miss Emma Morgan's room at the Franklin building. Miss Morgan not being able to attend to her duties yet. Prof. Hatfield, the superintendent, has been teaching Miss Morgan's grade, and will today resume his regular duties.

RAILROADER HURT.

F. A. Ollerman, an engine wiper in the local I. C. round house, fell down at the turn table last night and badly sprained a knee. He was carried to the I. C. hospital for treatment, and this morning is much improved. The accident will lay him off from duty for some time.

ORCHESTRA RE-ENGAGED.

Last night at a meeting of the Session of the First Cumberland Presbyterian church it was decided to re-engage the orchestra for another month, and possibly for a greater length of time. The orchestra has proven a great success at the church.

Huntsmen, Soldiers, Maskers, etc.

Miss Henrietta Griesman became immediately popular upon her first appearance in Paducah last night in "Mistress Nell" at The Kentucky. The audience was large, and composed mostly of people who fully appreciated the excellence of the bright and sparkling play and the cleverness of the attractive young woman who appeared in the title role.

Miss Griesman is pretty, intelligent, graceful, dainty, natural and at all times interesting. In "Mistress Nell" she is an actress at the King's Theatre, the king's favorite, and loved by many. The time was during the reign of Charles II, and the period enables the acting to be both fanciful and elaborate.

Mr. Harry Woodruff as King Charles, George Spencer as Duke of Buckingham, William Herbert as "Strings," an old soldier, Edward Page as the Landlord of Blue Bear Inn, and John Malone as Jack Hart, actor manager of the King's Theatre, and Miss Adèle Block as Louise, Duchess of Portsmouth, were strong in their support. While Miss Griesman was necessarily and deservedly the favorite, her company is of unusual excellence, and by its fearless support contributed no little to the enjoyment and success of the performance.

The audience evidenced its delight several times by repeated curtain calls. Whenever Miss Griesman comes to Paducah hereafter she will have a crowded house. She seldom plays cities the size of Paducah, and went from here to Louisville. "Mistress Nell" is a play that hasn't a dull line in it. It is effervescent, buoyant, lively, and chuck full of bright dialogue, without a moment's ennui, and, in short, a production that all should see.

It was Mr. Woodruff's first appearance as leading man with the company. He is one of the highest salaried leading men on the American stage.

THE SUN'S DAILY STORY.

A CHRONICLE OF THE SAWDUST.

By FLORENCE K. HOFFMAN. Copyright, 1901, by the Daily Story Pub. Co.

Two people peering within the quiet room where little Mrs. Cronin rocked her sick baby could have recognized her as the original of the flaming posters with which the town was literally plastered. These portrayed a highly colored female standing erect upon two ferocious lions with the Stars and Stripes waving above her head. Yet they were meant for her, and like the renowned Dr. Jeckyll and Mr. Hyde, Mrs. Cronin lived two different lives as widely antipodal as theirs. Plain Marie Blee, before her marriage, though known to the circus world as Mlle. Teraphine Bellefontaine, she had been as proud as a queen to become Mrs. Cronin, for though all of her colleagues voted Jim a slow one and a very poor match for the brilliant mademoiselle, it was just that very stolidity and tranquillity which most endeared him to his little wife.

Jim was a keeper in Robinson's magnificent Menagerie, and day after day he went patiently on with his work, cleaning the animals' cages and leading out their rations, without one single yearning in his honest soul for any more ambitious position, while he did it all so quietly that the savage beasts headed his presence no more than that of the flea buzzing through their cage.

He and Marie were married in the spring and had been happily together for a year on Jim's modest earnings, which though not much, were amply sufficient for their simple needs, and when the blue-eyed baby came to The Original of the Flaming Posters, complete their happiness, Marie found in this new responsibility a stimulus for further activity, and when the little boy was five months old, and in spite of Jim's protests on going back to her work.

Little Jimmy was a sturdy child who never gave them a moment's trouble. They got a good woman to take care of him, and with her mind thus relieved, Marie felt back naturally into her old lines, though Diabolo, her former circus partner, was a trifle more than of yore, having been used for a year and a half to the quiet life of Sugar Hill. He had been dismissed for drunkenness, but he got on pretty well after a while, and his lions learned once more to obey his methods, and as for little Jimmy, to her little heart after the performance, every day his rosy cheeks encouraged her to work on for his sake.

During her performance Jim was never very far away, for those were his off-duty moments, and though two big guards stood always at the gate of the lion cage, whose interference had never yet been necessary, it seemed to the honest fellow that his whole happiness hung by a single thread, and in his loving heart truly he died daily.

And now the baby had fallen ill and though his nurse assured them it was nothing serious and that spasms were quite common with teething children, Marie felt as she watched the little form lying quite still across her knees, or again twitching convulsively while her heart almost stopped beating, that she simply couldn't leave him.

But, alas! When she presented herself before Mr. McGrath, sole manager and proprietor of the show, one glance into his fishy little eyes convinced her in advance that any appeal to his sympathy would be useless. "Leave ye off from the matinee, is it? Now, I'm awful sorry, Mrs. Cronin, but it ain't to be thought of. 'Tis a blax, that's my motto. You and them lions is my most drawin' card, and if 'twas to git about you wasn't 'tun' to perform, we might as well close the circus, for we shouldn't take in a fiver—" here he spat copiously and conclusively. "I'm real sorry the kid is sick," he added, seeing her a shiver and tremble before him, "but I guess he'll pull through, and you ain't in the ring over a half hour any way."

How could she explain to a man that her courage was all gone, that every nerve in her body was all to quiver and snap, he would understand, and with a sickly smile he went over her, she dismissed him, and she went to the dressing tent and struggled to get into her gaudy costume.

Her Menagerie, who took charge of the wardrobe, eyed her with a look that said that children he had seen, and that she saw how Marie looked and that she was hearing the doctor's words in a few minutes more she would be dead, and she pressed a gasp for the reason, saying with a gasp, "a swallow, did you say?"

"A swallow, did you say?"

Marie, after only a moment's pause, sank you, Mizzter McGrath, it made me but more sick," and then as the well-known music struck up and she knew that her hour had come, the old woman heard her whisper to herself: "Oh! bon Dieu des Misericordias, protegez-moi de ces bêtes féroces pour l'amour de ton Fils unique," thus she prayed.

As she bounded into the lion cage, with feet that felt heavy as lead, she felt, for the first time, both content, and once more endeavored to steal over there, and he struggled to overcome this hitherto unknown fear, and prepared to put the lions through their paces.

Cerberus was tractable enough, but Diabolo, always uncertain in his temper, was unusually impatient this afternoon. But the performance went on to all intents and purposes just as usual, and with heartfelt thankfulness Marie braced herself for the last feat—a wild dance over and among the lions, ending in a final tableau as she unfurled the Stars and Stripes to the tune of "Hail Columbia."

She gave a cut with her whip to force the lions into recumbent positions, when just as she made her first pass between them, a huge mastiff, which, unnoticed by its owner, had been creeping nearer and nearer to the cage, now sprang at the bars, barking fiercely. If you have ever seen this happen as I have, you already foresee the result; if not, I can hardly picture to you the wild fear, panic and the fury of the lions.

Still and trembling for one brief instant, they rushed at each other and, before Marie could charge her position she lost her balance and fell heavily against the bars while the shock dislodged the tiny pistol always in her belt, and flung it far beyond her reach. Then the lions turned upon her, their eyes wild with fury.

"Cerberus, Diabolo," she shouted, as she struck at them with her whip trying in vain to fix them with her eyes. But it was useless. Three times they charged her round the cage while the audience held their breath.

"The guards!" gasped the people. "Oh! God, the guards!" their absence being now noticed for the first time. Ah! but the audience had forgotten Jim! Snatching the long-handled fork (kept for emergency), he dashed at the cage, jabbing and prodding the lions with its stinging prongs. Nothing but the knowledge that he must be outside the cage-door to open it for Marie, kept him from dashing in among the lions, whom he seemed to fear, no more than ants.

Then, as for one instant driven to the end of the cage, they turned again upon Marie. Jim hung the door wide open, she dashed out—and the heavy iron swung to again, but not before Diabolo's claws had fastened upon Jim, ripping his arm open from shoulder to wrist, and almost tearing it from its socket. As he sank upon the ground a bleeding, unconscious mass, Mr. McGrath and the delinquent guards hurried to the spot.

The audience rose to a man, and for a moment panic seemed inevitable, but the thought in every mind that it was probably all over for Jim, did not so quiet them than the efforts of the manager, and as several doctors hurried from the crowd, and Jim on a heavy improvised litter, was borne from the tent, followed by Marie, her face almost torn off her head, and her hair and even men about. A fractured arm had been secured, and the attention of the doctors was turned to the woman, for though Jim's wound was useless for many hours, though they feared, though they were mere flesh and blood, but in no wise danger, the doctors moved a total nervous collapse together in a faint, and thought for no more. Marie, sitting beside him and Jimmy's cradle close by, Marie said, bravely: "It is not you are now to worry about noosing, my Jim, me, I will work for those while you and the babe get well."

Jim smiled faintly, as she leaned over him lovingly, but his hand closed with astonishing strength over hers, as she said firmly: "That's as it may be, Marie, but you'll have to work at something else, for though I've lost one arm, maybe, I've still got the other, and you and me has quit the circus business for good. No," as she seemed about to interrupt him, "I've said my say, and though I don't overcome this hitherto unknown fear, and prepared to put the lions through their paces. Cerberus was tractable enough, but Diabolo, always uncertain in his temper, was unusually impatient this afternoon. But the performance went on to all intents and purposes just as usual, and with heartfelt thankfulness Marie braced herself for the last feat—a wild dance over and among the lions, ending in a final tableau as she unfurled the Stars and Stripes to the tune of "Hail Columbia."

time for keeps."

And it was just at this juncture that their good landlady handed Marie a letter addressed to Jim in a queer, unformed hand, and while Marie held it for him, Jim, with difficulty, read as follows:

"I'm a plain feller and no saint, but I do admire a brave man when I meet him, and I never see a neater job than ye done yesterday. I hear the cat's yer wife, and if ye ever leave her do the lion act again I say ye don't deserve to keep her. As ye may be a bit short till ye all goin' again, I enclose a trifle which I shan't never miss from a pile I made on the track last week. And ye needn't never try to thank me, for I shall be miles away when ye all this letter from."

A FRIEND.

The letter held five clean bills of one hundred dollars each, and little Jimmy crowded with delight as the pretty green things fluttered down upon the counter-pane.

ing of a more commodious and strictly up-to-date city hospital, containing in addition to the charity wards, a private ward or room for pay patients. I am advised by the medical profession that they will take charge of the hospital by terms, free of charge, to be governed by directory, ordinances passed by your honorable body. The present hospital was built when the city had a population of six or seven thousand, and is wholly inadequate for our present needs. All hospitals should be sanitary institutions; that our present one is not, is a deeply deplored fact I believe. If you are going to furnish charity furnish good charity. I also recommend the improvement of the market houses, or better still, the building of a new one. I would advise the opening of every street to the city limits unless the expense in certain localities would be too great. Streets through railroad machine shops and like interests, should not be opened. I endorse the recommendation of the board of health that the city take the necessary steps to have the water company furnish filtered water. No doubt, it will be charged that this is an attack on the water company, but the strongest friends and even stockholders of said company, cannot deny that the water is often so muddy that it is unpalatable and objectionable. I am credibly informed this trouble can be remedied, and if so, it should be done. The people expect it at your hands, and look to you for a redress of this grievance.

I would recommend an increase in the police force. I am informed that in the business center, comprising an area of 36 squares, there are only two night men, and the outside beats are even larger. Under such conditions, the city cannot have proper protection.

I expect to instruct the police to enforce the laws on all alike. While some laws are objectionable to many of the people, and some may not meet my approval, all laws should be enforced until repealed.

I would recommend that your honorable body increase the salary of the police force to that paid by other cities of this size, and by ordinance require the witness fees paid into the city treasury, instead of going to the members of the police force as heretofore.

I would also recommend to your honorable body to all the Commercial club in all its undertakings for the city's interest as I regard it as a most powerful auxiliary in promoting the growth and prosperity of the city.

The positions of council clerk and civil engineer I hardly think pay sufficient. These matters I would recommend be looked into, and that you require your elective officers to come up to the full requirement of the charter and ordinances.

I have been informed by my honored predecessor, that on account of neglected expenses of smallpox, the finances at your command will have to be handled carefully to make them sufficient to the end of the fiscal year. He has made a statement of the financial condition of the city, which I refer to your careful consideration.

It will be impossible to please every one; criticisms we may expect yet each of us can have a record of faithful and fearless performance of duty. Let Palnuch's advancement be the keynote to every official act, and let mayor and council be as a unit in promoting her prosperity. May the incoming administration faithfully and acceptably discharge the duties incumbent on them; may Palnuch continue to prosper as she has under the faithful and able administration just closed; and, to accomplish this end I ask the support of every citizen of Palnuch. Respectfully,

D. A. YEISER.

A report was read from Captain Henry Baily, of the night police, showing the large amount of territory patrolled by the police of Palnuch, and recommending an increase. The report also showed the number of arrests during the year, and other interesting matters. It was received and the recommendation referred to the ordinance committee, of which Councilmen Reed is chairman temporarily.

Councilman Hummel wanted the committee to take up at once the needed proceedings towards getting Palnuch into the second class but this matter was not acted on, as it has been left in the hands of the city attorney.

The next ballot Dick polled Brooks, Gilson, Fowler, Hannan and Johnson; Digel polled Hummel, Niehaus, Potter and Taylor; Rogers polled Jackson, Reed and Woolfolk. Rogers receiving only three votes and being behind most after the second ballot, was dropped according to decisions earlier in the evening, when it was voted to drop the last man. The next ballot resulted in Dick receiving the majority by the following vote: (Dick—Brooks, Fowler, Gilson, Hannan, Jackson, Johnson, Reed and Woolfolk. Digel—Hummel, Niehaus, Potter and Taylor.

Peal—Connellman Gilson.

Mr. S. A. Fowler had no opposition and was re-elected wharfmaster.

L. P. Raser and George Gardner were nominated for sewer inspector and the former won by the following vote: Raser—Brooks, Fowler, Jackson, Potter, Reed, Taylor, Niehaus, Woolfolk and Hummel. Gardner—Connellmen Johnson, Hannan and Gilson.

Chief Woods, of the fire department, had no opposition and was re-elected, Captain Angustus and Mr. Jake Elliott were nominated for assistant chief and the former won by the following vote: Angustus—Brooks, Fowler, Gilson, Hannan, Hummel, Jackson, Johnson, Reed and Woolfolk. Elliott—Potter, Niehaus and Taylor.

For driver of the patrol wagon, Councilman Fowler nominated Mr. Schumacher; Councilman Hannan nominated Ed Etter, Councilman Potter nominated John Austin, and Councilman Woolfolk nominated C. B. Lecher. First ballot: Schumacher—Fowler and Hummel. Etter—Gilson, Hannan, Johnson and Taylor. Lecher—Woolfolk. Second ballot: Schumacher—Fowler. Etter—Gilson, Hummel and Reed. Austin—Brooks, Hummel, Jackson, Johnson, Niehaus, Potter, Taylor and Woolfolk. Lecher—none. Austin was declared elected.

The election of city engineer was deferred, an ordinance to be passed increasing the salary.

The election of a sexton of Oak Grove was overlooked.

Dr. J. D. Robertson was re-elected a member of the board of health, and Dr. John Bonds to succeed Mr. J. C. Piper on the board.

The Fidelity Deposit company, of Maryland, was accepted on the following bonds: Chief of Fire Department James Woods, assistant Chief W. E. Angustus, City Printer James Utterback City Clerk Patterson, Wharfmaster S. A. Fowler, City Physician Coyle and Patrol Wagon Driver Austin.

Councilman Reed suggested that some of the new members of the council be appointed to assist Councilmen Johnson and Hannan, of the library committee, and was agreed that the matter would be given immediate attention.

Councilman Charles Reed was unanimously elected mayor pro tem.

Retiring City Attorney Lightfoot offered his services free of charge in preparing the necessary papers towards getting Palnuch into the second class, and called attention to the importance of immediately getting together the petitions, records and other necessary documents for presentation to the legislature.

Mayor Yeiser having embodied some ideas relative to the government of the police department, suggested that they be referred to the ordinance committee which was done. He will not make his police appointments until an ordinance is passed providing for the roles he desires.

The council then adjourned.

YESTERDAY AFTER.

NOON'S MEETING.

Considerable business was transacted yesterday afternoon at the final meeting of the old council.

Firol reports were received from various departments.

G. F. Gabriel's saloon license was transferred to Dick Sebee.

Petitions were received asking for an extension of water mains out Tennessee street.

Reports from the library committee were read. There were two reports, one councilman signing both, one report being in favor of referring and the other to accept Architect Davis' plans and employ him. The report accepting Architect Davis' plan was adopted.

The contract for grading and graveling Harris street from Eighth to Tenth was awarded to E. C. Farrell at 33 cents.

Mayor Laing stated that Mr. Andrew Carnegie had written him for the city to communicate with his treasurer, R. A. France, Holoken, N. J.

The mayor's answer to it was read, and covered about 100 sheets of typewritten paper. The substance of it was published in The Times several days ago.

The new councilmen were then sworn in, and the council adjourned.

SAYS HE WAS KICKED.

MAN FROM EPPERSON PLACED IN THE RAILROAD HOSPITAL.

Ofe Heins, of Epperson, age 40 years, was brought to the city and placed in the Illinois Central hospital yesterday afternoon in a semi-conscious condition, the result of accidentally being kicked by a mule.
He did not regain consciousness until this morning and said that he had been kicked by a mule and other than this no account of the accident could be had from him. He had a very bad wound on the temple but the skull does not seem to be fractured. He will probably be out in several days although his condition this morning is little better than yesterday.

LOCAL FOOTBALL.

THREE TEAMS NOW PRACTICE
REGULARLY IN PADUCAH.

Football has become a popular sport in Paducah and now there are three teams in existence. In the city not counting those composed of mere boys.
The Y. M. C. A. High School and the Hannawicks, the latter named after the bowling alley and new billiard room, are the three principle teams and the Brunswick is practicing hard to compete with the High School team. The practice games are held at night and the first game between those two teams will probably be played some time in the near future but not before the Wingo and High School game next Saturday.

The sport has become popular at the schools and now regular Rugby is played where ordinary kicking games were formerly enjoyed.

WAS A SWAP.

COUNCILMEN MET YESTERDAY
AFTERNOON AND MADE
CHANGES

It is understood that the several changes made last night by the council that proved such surprises were the result of a swapping of votes yesterday afternoon. Up to then it is known that at least three of the most important races were settled one way, and at the meeting of the council in an entirely different way. One coun-cilmans was heard to say that he had to cast three votes that he did not want to cast at all. Some of those swapped out of jobs are somewhat
"sore" today.

LEG CUT OFF.

JIM POLK, A COLORED PORTER,
RUN OVER BY A TRAIN

Jim Polk, a colored porter, on a Chicago through sleeper, met with a serious accident last night at Paducah Junction while attempting to board the engine of the through passenger from Chicago on route south.

He missed his hold and fell under the wheels and a leg was cut off before the train could be stopped.
The injury was treated at Paducah Junction and Fulton last night but Polk will be brought to Paducah and placed in the railroad hospital for treatment.

NO CHANGES.

CHIEF WOOD WILL MAKE NONE
AMONG HIS STATIONMEN.

Chief James Wood, of the fire department, stated this morning that he would make no changes in the force at Central station. He has good, well trained men, something that can't be picked up anywhere, and will keep them all. The same will be observed at the South side station under Asst.
Chief Augustus.

MARRIED THIS MORNING.

COUPLE ARRIVE AND ARE MAR-RIED BY REV. J. C. REID.

Mr. V. B. Randolph, of Hamburg,
Ballard county, and Miss Fay Stahl, of Wingo, Graves county, arrived in the city this morning and were married at 10:30 o'clock at the Cumberland Presbyterian parsonage by Rev.
J. C. Reid.

NEW OFFICERS TAKE CHARGE.

The newly elected city officers this morning were nearly all sworn in and took charge of their respective offices.
Mayor Yelzer is busy formulating the new rules for the police force, which are to go into effect when the ordinance embodying them is passed by the council. The changes have not yet been decided on.

See Jones' column for farm loan terms.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

WORTH GREGORY LOSES HIS LIFE AT GILBERTSVILLE.

News of the killing of Worth Gregory, white, age 18, at Gilbertsville yesterday, reached the city yesterday afternoon. From the accounts of the passengers on the accommodation train from Louisville which arrived in the city at 3:37 yesterday afternoon, the boy was supposed to have been crossing the railroad track at Gilbertsville ahead of the freight train which passed through at noon when he was struck. The right leg was severed from the body and he was mangled about the body badly. The remains were picked up and taken to Gilbert-ville for interment. The boy lived near that place and his death will come as a great blow to his friends and people.

BANKRUPTCY CASE.

HEFEHEE BAGBY RETURNS
WICKLIFFE.

Mr. E. W. Bagby, referee in bankruptcy, returned from Wickliffe last night where he tried the voluntary bankruptcy case of John H. Overstreet.
The case was only partially heard and will be again taken up next week. It seems that the creditors claim the defendant's homestead is liable for part of the assets and this is the question to settle. Overstreet claims that he came into possession of the homestead before the debts, for which he became a bankrupt, were contracted. The question is a hard one to decide and will require much investigation to get at the bottom of the matter. The household had been in possession of the defendant's mother since the father died and then later it came into Overstreet's possession.

On the 14th Mr. Bagby will go to Mayfield to be present at the first meeting of the involuntary bankruptcy case of W. S. McCarty.

Roosevelt Carried a Pick.

"One thing that Roosevelt did showed the kind of a heart he's got," remarked ex-Trooper Pollock to a comrade.
"It was when we left the trenches and went back to our last camp because we left the island. Each of us had his equipment to carry, and we had pickaxes and shovels in addition. The young fellow was pretty nearly back, and he was struggling along with his pick beside a log and the rest of his stuff. You remember that young fellow,
don't you?"

"Yes, and I'll tell you who he was. He was a son of General Habscock."

"That's so. Well, the colonel came along, and when he saw the boy he just took the pick away from him and carried it back to camp himself. And not only that, but then he carried it down the company street and put it in the boy's tent."
